Using know-how of safety and health

Every year in Japan, approximately 110,000 people are injured with lost time of 4 days or more by industrial accidents including over 1,000 fatalities. In recent years, the fatalities are decreasing but the injured are increasing. Once a serious work accident has occurred, it will not only bring misfortune on the victims but also endanger the company's existence as seen in recent actual accidents.

It's too late when an accident has occurred.

Tokyo Branch of Japan Association of Safety and Health

Consultants will be sticks for you to lean on to prevent accidents.

Use Safety and Health Consultants:

In Case

- * A work-related accident has occurred.
- * Your factory has been designated the factory requiring special guidance for safety and health management.
- * You want to improve the equipment or workplace environment.
- * You seek a lecturer for seminar or training in safety and health.
- * You want to develop safety and health standards or work procedures.
- * You have a concern about medical examination or workplace environment measurement.

Safety and Health Consultants are the industrial safety and health professionals who have been registered on the industrial safety and health consultant roster after passing the national examination conducted by the Minister of Health, Labor and Welfare, and the only consultants who have been given the title of Consultant by law.

In recent years, companies ranging from large to small scale have been outsourcing increasingly the safety and health function to the Consultants.

The Consultants will support you with collective efforts by the organization, and can provide consulting overseas.

Feel free to contact the Consultants.
